

LESLIE'S LIST OF "GOOD" DOG FOODS

Leslie Gillis

The following are a list of foods that I have researched and found "worthy" of feeding to my dogs. Some of them are only available in isolated areas of the USA (mainly the West Coast) but some of them may be ordered from stores such as www.petfooddirect.com, although those venues may not be the most cost-effective.

These are listed in no particular order, but foods that are "preferred" by ME are in ORANGE. Don't ask me how I came up with these – various criteria applied – some based on the ingredients, some on the number of calories (I need high caloric content), some on value for the money...It is up to YOU to decide which food is best for your dogs, and this may take some experimentation in feeding them various brands.

Please always check the ingredients that I have listed against the most current manufacturer information. It is possible that ingredients have changed since I compiled this list. This is most especially important to do if you want to make sure that a food does NOT have a particular ingredient (e.g. soy, barley, etc.)

If a particular food is listed as "(any variety)" please also check that whatever variety you are considering meets your criteria. It is also possible that manufacturers have added new products and that my "any variety" statement will no longer stand.
